

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

The Central Pennsylvania Psychological Association (CPPA) is a non -profit, regional association of psychologists dedicated to providing opportunities for professional fellowship and the exchange of professional ideas among psychologists in the region, for fostering community awareness of psychology, and for supporting opportunities for quality professional growth and education.

Application for 2008 Membership in the Central Pennsylvania Psychological Association

Member: (CE benefits, voting privileges, can hold office) $30.00

I am a psychologist living or working in Central Pennsylvania and I qualify to be a member of either/both:

the Pennsylvania Psychological Association
 the American Psychological Association

Associate Member: (Allied Professional) $20.00

I am a practicing mental health professional in the following profession: _____ and am interested and/or involved in promoting psychology in Central Pennsylvania.

Student Member: $10.00

I am a student enrolled in a graduate program in psychology (name of academic advisor: _____.)

I am a psychologist-in-training preparing for the licensure exam.

Name: _____
(please print)

Profession and Degree: _____
(please print)

Address: _____

E-mail: _____ Telephone: _____
Fax: _____

Send CPPA mailings to the following address (if different from above):

Send this form with a check (made payable to CPPA) to: CPPA, P. O. Box 1372, State College, PA 16801

Contact: Sean Lukens, Ph.D., CPPA President, 814-571-3136 or seanlukens@yahoo.com for questions about membership or the workshop