Ethically Expanding Your Fee-For-Service Psychotherapy Practice

Sponsored by the Central Pennsylvania Psychological Association
Presented by

Elaine Rodino, Ph.D.

Psychologist in Private Practice in State College

Saturday, April 10th, 2010—State College, PA

Celebration Hall Conference Center
2280 Commercial Boulevard, State College, PA 16801

Abstract: This course is designed to help both new and seasoned psychotherapists to ethically expand their fee-for-service practice by becoming a value added to other professionals and businesses in their community. A win-win-win situation develops for the business/professional, the public and the psychotherapist by having a greater understanding of the psychological issues pertaining to each setting.

About the Presenter: Elaine Rodino a psychologist in private practice in State College, is an APA and PPA fellow, and on the Executive Board of CPPA. She is a past-president of APA's Divisions of Independent Practice and Media Psychology. Dr. Rodino relocated to State College from Los Angeles where she was a past-president of Los Angeles County Psychological Association (LACPA), and of the LACPA Foundation. She also served on the Board of the CA Psychological Association. An author of "Saying Good-Bye to Managed Care: Building Your Independent Psychotherapy Practice," Dr. Rodino has presented many workshops on building connections with the community while building a fee-for-service practice.
